

Artworks are low-maintenance pets. They need attention and draw owners into complex feelings of attachment, but don't need to be fed and never poo.

BARRAGE NYC

David Humphrey

Poodles always seem on display; mice not as much. Some artworks, like Disney's Mickey, ostentatiously transform their modest origins while others, like a French Fifi, wear their specialness like they were born with it.

clockwise from upper left:

Chris Martin @ Mitchell-Inness & Nash
 Douglas Florian @ BravinLee
 Alex Hubbard @ Nicole Klagsbrun
 Nayland Blake @ Matthew Marks
 Hope Gangloff @ Susan Inglett
 Joyce Pensato @ Friedrich Petzel
 Jasper Johns @ Matthew Marks
 Luis Gispert @ Zach Feuer
 John Miller @ Metro Pictures
 Nayland Blake @ Matthew Marks
 Ana Mendieta @ Lelong
 Hans Breder @ Lelong

Wardell Milan @ Taxter & Spengeman
 Kasuo Shiraga @ Marianne Boesky
 Johannes Wöhnseifer @ Casey Kaplan